The Embassy of India presents its compliments to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Government of Nepal and has the honour to inform that the Research & Information System for Developing Countries (RIS), New Delhi, in association with EXIM Bank, would be organizing a Summer School on International Trade Theory and Practices from 19-24 June, 2017. It would provide an extremely valuable opportunity to Nepalese candidates specializing in international trade to keep themselves of the latest development in this area.

2. The details of the course are given in the attached notice. The application proforma is available on RIS website www.ris.org.in. The last date for receipt of applications is 25 May, 2017. The cost on travel and lodging & boarding will be met by the candidates themselves or by their sponsoring organization.

3. The Embassy of India would appreciate if the details of this course could be circulated to concerned agencies in Nepal and five candidates nominated for attending this course at an early date.

4. The Embassy of India avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs the assurances of its highest consideration.

RIS-EXIM Bank Summer School International Trade Theory and Practices (19-24 June 2017)

In order to contribute towards capacity building of scholars working in international trade, RIS, in association with the Exim Bank of India, proposes to launch a Summer School programme open to M.Phil and Ph.D. students specialising in international trade.

RIS is a premier policy research organisation working on international economic issues. Over the years RIS has gained prominence for its contribution to research and policy in areas like multilateral trading system, regional trading arrangements, comprehensive economic cooperation architecture, and South-South Cooperation. Trade, Technology and Investment issues define the core expertise of the institution leading to several research studies and deliberations.

Exim Bank has been entrusted with the task of promoting India's international trade. Besides promoting, facilitating and financing India's international trade, Exim Bank of India has also taken several initiatives to encourage scholars to undertake focussed economic research studies.
